

San Francisco State University
CSU-Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation

Application Form

The California State University Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation (CSU-LSAMP) is an academic support program jointly supported by the National Science Foundation (Grant No HRD-0331537) and the California State University.

- The goal of CSU-LSAMP is to broaden participation in science, mathematics, engineering and technology (STEM) disciplines and contribute to the national agenda to increase the number of underrepresented minority students receiving baccalaureate degrees in STEM disciplines.
- A student is eligible to participate in CSU-LSAMP if he/she is a member of a group that has been traditionally underrepresented in higher education or faces social, cultural, educational, or economic barriers to careers in STEM.

By participating in the CSU-LSAMP Program you agree to have your name and address listed in a national directory of graduates in the STEM field during the year in which you expect to graduate and you give CSU-LSAMP permission to access your grades.

Please answer the following two questions (you may be brief):

Describe any cultural, social, or economic barriers you faced in your pursuit of higher education:

Describe how your participation in CSU-LSAMP will contribute to the program's goals.
